BENTINCK'S SON DENIES WILHELM WAS INTERVIEWED

Telegraph Associated Press Saying London Correspondent Got No Statement From Former Kaiser.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, April 4.—The articles in the London Chronicle by Harold Begbie, describing his visit to a German Kaiser's alleged state of mind, charging Russia with responsibility for the war and asserting his own innocence of any guilt, have attracted wide attention. The London bureau of the Associated Press yesterday received the following telegram:

"Amsterdam, April 3.—Harold Begbie has not had an interview with the former Emperor. His written questions remained unanswered. He did not receive any authorization to publish the Emperor's views and no statement was given to him. He never saw the Emperor; neither did he enter the castle gates."

"CARLOS BENTINCK."

The signer of the foregoing telegram is Count Carlos Bentinck, son of Count Godard Bentinck, who is serving as host to the former Kaiser. The younger Count Bentinck lives at the castle and manages the establishment. The Begbie article has been reprinted in this country.

CITY JAILER'S BILLS TO U. S. FOR KEEPING ALIENS PAID TWICE

Check for All Expenses Since Last July Received After Bills Were Paid Separately.

City Jailer John McCully probably set a new record as an expert collector when he received a check from the Government recently settling in full for the second time for the upkeep of enemy aliens who have been confined in the jail at various times since last July.

Upon examining his books, McCully found his bills submitted to the Government from time to time had all been paid, and the latest check paid the bills over again in a lump. It was for $2840.80, and was signed by J. H. Mackey, disbursing clerk of the National Security and Defense Department of the Department of Justice. McCully has mailed the department a statement of the account as it appears on his records, so that the error on the Washington books may be corrected.

KIEL ON G. P. Pledges.

May Kiel today said he had clipped the editorial in yesterday's Post-Dispatch headed "Republican Municipal Pledges." In this editorial, a number of pledges from the Republican city platform were quoted, and the herald expressed that the promises would be fulfilled within the shortest possible time. The editorial also called the Mayor's attention to the need for the early widening of Washington avenue, the improvement of Twelfth street south of the viaduct, and the repairing of main thoroughfares.

"I am going to try to carry out all those measures," the Mayor said. "I am glad the Post-Dispatch is for these progressive measures, and I shall expect the help of the Post-Dispatch when these measures come up in the form of legislation."

KANSAS CITY BROKER TAKEN HERE AS A DRAFT EVADER

Irving Updike, described as son of wealthy man, recognized by Government Official.

Irving Updike, 37 years old, a stock and bond broker of Kansas City, Mo., was arrested yesterday afternoon at Eighth and Olive streets on a charge of failing to register for the draft last Sept. 13. An open trial took place in the basement of a 5 and 10-cent store on Washington avenue on March 15. Theofelis said that he smiled because Miss Hoch first smiled at him.

JOHN REED CASE DISMISSED

Writer and Two Others Freed on Espionage Act Charges.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 4.—Indictments charging violation of the espionage act against John Reed, newspaper writer, and Abraham L. Shiplacoff, former State Assemblyman, were dismissed in the Federal Court here today by Judge Knox on a motion of the District Attorney.

Reed and Shiplacoff were indicted in September, 1918, for alleged seditionary utterances in which they condemned the American Government's policy toward Russia.

Updike told who he was, and said he has been living for the last six months at the Alcazar Hotel, 3137 Locust street, but declined to answer any questions about the charge against him.

In the information sent out by the Department of Justice, asking for his arrest, Updike was described as a son of a wealthy resident of Kansas City.

AMERICANS HEAR GERMAN SITUATION IS GROWING WORSE

U. S. Peace Delegates Believed to Have Information Showing Need of Peace to Stop Spartacists.

STRIKE SAID TO HAVE SPREAD TO KRUPPS

Uprising in Frankfort Reported to Have Followed Gaiety Among the Rich Since Armistice.

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, April 4.—Reports of extreme gains in Germany are increasing and are causing considerable perturbation at the Hotel de Crillon. The American delegates, convinced that the need of signing peace is greater than ever, have turned to the policy of mapping out a general treaty and leaving the disputed details to be settled later and incorporated in the final document.

It is believed that the Americans have come into the possession of information that the present Government in Germany is in a highly precarious position and that Germany is likely to turn to the Spartacists if a remedy is found in peace and the resumption of industry.

The new policy will make possible the outlining of peace in a general way with regard to frontiers but it is believed that indemnity figures must be set specifically. This latter is one of the principal sources of contention in the council of four.

It is believed here that the visit of King Albert of Belgium, to President Wilson and E. M. House yesterday had much to do with urging an indemnity sufficient to compensate Belgium for all material losses. An increased pressure is being put on the Americans and Premier Lloyd George to give way before the demands now being pressed by the other nations.

Loyal Troops Disarm Empress Augusta Regiment.

BERLIN, via Copenhagen, Thursday, April 3.—The military authorities here today began disarming the Empress Augusta regiment, which had become infected with Spartacist ideals. Up to 6:30 o'clock the disarming had proceeded without incident.

The regiment, which repeatedly had shown itself unruly, resisted an attempt to convert it into a unit of the national defense force. Its barracks in Fuerstenstrasse was surrounded by Government troops today. Artillery was brought up, the neighborhood of the barracks cut off from outside communication and machine guns placed on adjoining roofs. The loyal troops then began to disarm the regiment.

All Night Ball Feature of Gay Life in Frankfort.

By the Associated Press.

COBLENZ, Thursday, April 3.—The Spartacists uprising in Frankfort, to which city German Government troops had been ordered, occurred virtually within sight of soldiers of the Tenth French army, who occupied western suburbs but were powerless to act owing to the fact that Frankfort proper is just over the Mainz bridgehead line.

According to American medical officers who have been in Frankfort recently, there has been much gaiety in the city since the armistice was signed. All the afternoon and far into the night the cafes were filled with people who became wealthy because of the war. There was apparently plenty of food, but the prices were very high at hotels and restaurants. The Americans say they heard a different story regarding food from districts where the poor classes live. Many all-night balls have been the feature of life in Frankfort, and newspapers have depicted much space to what they called "Rowdy Life." Ministers too have preached sermons in an endeavor to stem the tide of gaiety which began last November and increased as the winter went on.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—While Admiral Grayson, the President's physician, cabled Secretary Tumulty that the President caught cold yesterday, and was unable to be seen after, although his condition was not regarded as serious.

E. M. House took the President's place at the meeting of the Council of Four today.

The President's cold is a slight one, Rear Admiral Grayson, the President's physician, said today, and one day's rest probably will cure it. Dr. Grayson sent the President to bed as a preventive measure. The cold developed last night. The President, who retired at 8 o'clock last night, rested comfortably through the night.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—While Admiral Grayson, the President's physician, cabled Secretary Tumulty that the President caught cold yesterday, and was unable to be seen after, although his condition was not regarded as serious.

People Virtually Independent.

Secretary Baker recounted the history of the transition in the relations between the American Government and the islands from the time of the establishment of the military government to the present. The islanders are virtually independent, he said, the only link being to the American people.

"I know, however, that your sentiments are mine in this regard, and that you will translate to me my own feelings."

"I am sorry to mention look-into the faces of the gentlemen of this mission of the Philippine Islands and tell them all that I have in mind and heart, as I think of the patient labor, with the end almost in sight, undertaken by the American and Filipino people for their permanent benefit.

"People Virtually Independent.

Secretary Baker responded to the question of the transition in the relations between the American Government and the islands from the time of the establishment of the military government to the present. The islanders are virtually independent, he said, the only link being to the American people.

"I have been truly treated as no nation ever before has treated another under its way," he declared, "and yet you—none better than you—will understand why, even under such conditions, our people still crave independence, that they, too, may be sovereign masters of their own destinies."

SWISS WAITERS FOR GERMANS WHEN THEY GO TO VERSAILLES

By the Associated Press.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 4.—Announcement was made here yesterday of a gift by George Eastman, president of the Eastman Kodak Co., to older employees of the company of 10,000 of its common shares, having a present market value of nearly $6,000,000. This stock is to be sold to employees at the par value of $100 per share, on an easy payment plan, the proceeds amounting to $1 million dollars, to go into an employees' welfare fund. The company itself has agreed to set aside a like amount of its unused common stock to be sold at par to the newer employees as they become eligible through length of service.

The Kodak company has for several years paid to its employees an annual large dividend amounting to nearly a million dollars, which is to be continued.

Credits to France and Italy.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Credits of $85,000,000 to France and $25,000,000 to Italy were announced yesterday by the Treasury. The total advanced to the allies is $20,08,900,340.75, of which France has received $2,762,477,500, and Italy $1,521,500,000.

AMERICAN EXPERTS ON SELF DETERMINATION

President Declared to Have Maintained Principle Must Apply in All Cases Alike and Not Only When Favorable to Allies.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, April 4.—Premier Lloyd

George of Great Britain, in a statement to the Petit Parisien, today, denies the report, generally prevalent, that he is an obstinate opponent of the guarantees asked by France against a renewed attack by Germany.

"Dissensions?" the Premier asked.

"Do you seriously think they can ever exist between our two countries?"

"There has been some discussion, but is it not from sincere discussion that a final agreement must emerge between France and England?" Our understanding has remained complete and absolute. Englishmen did not come to fight by the side of the French to give your country merely relative security during a limited period. No, they mean France to have absolute security in the future.

Ready to Make New Sacrifices.

"You know what sacrifices England has made and you know well that England does not regret them. She is ready to make fresh ones if it becomes necessary to guarantee the peace and independence of France.

"I have seen the scourge of war loosed on France by Germany. We do not intend that there shall be a third time, and should it be 50 years hence, France again will find England by her side with all her wealth and power, for, mark well my words, the wild horse will be mastered."

"It is mastered at present, but if one day it raises its head ready to spring, it will find itself again faced by France and England, united in brotherhood."

The meetings yesterday proceeded amid another wave of apprehension spreading through the conference over lack of any tangible results after the Council of Four had labored continuously for 10 days.

This was accompanied by well-founded reports from those close in touch with the Council of Four showing that the situation, while not desperate, was at least serious because of radical differences on some fundamentals in the settlement of Germany's Western, the Franco-German, and the Eastern Polish frontiers.

American Expert's Views.

One of the American experts who is constantly being consulted on various questions before the council gives the following glimpse of what is going on behind scenes:

"The situation is extremely difficult, particularly as regards the Western frontier of Germany. President Wilson, in a conciliatory spirit, has been willing to do most anything to settle the dispute at the time of the armistice."

"The French have been assured of every military protection along the Rhine and for 50 kilometers east of the river, even to the extent of considering that any military activity in that section shall be looked upon as a hostile act. But this is not considered enough and additional claims lead to the conviction that they are open to construction as meaning something more than military security and verging on territorial control."

"The President is not willing to go far in creating more Alsace-Lorraine situations, and it is this stand against these claims which is causing the delays until some middle ground is found."

Concerning reparations, it was added, there were good prospects for an early agreement. This will not specify the total amount, but will leave it to a commission to work out details of reparation through a period of years. The priority of Belgium and France in the division of the German indemnity also is said to be nearing agreement.

The Council of Four has appointed a committee consisting of L. P. Loucheur, French Minister of Reconstruction; Edwin Montague, British Secretary for India, and John W. Davis, American Ambassador to Great Britain to put into definite proposals for the solution of the PARIS, April 2.—According to trustworthy information I have just received, the peace conference is disposed for reasons of expediency to accept France and Spain to Italy. It has decided to suspend demobilization of the French army until May 15 for reasons which have been judged to warrant this measure.

As the day of decision approaches, public excitement waxes intense, and the optimism of a few weeks ago is steadily waning. An impenetrable veil of secrecy obstructs the view of those continual publicists who would fain learn something about the elements of the long-drawn discussions, and about the motives determining certain delegates to whittle down Premier Clemenceau's demands.

It is hardly certain that the Council of Four has quite modified its view respecting Danzig, which it refused to allow to Germany, hesitates to award to Poland, and contemplates transforming into a free port, while neutralizing the corridor between Danzig and the Polish frontier and appointing a German-Polish administration. The Poles regard this arrangement as unworkable and apprehensive that it will be deemed harsh and plunged them into the depths of despair. But the matter is not yet settled definitely.

Reparation Undetermined.
Neither is the amount of indemnity to be exacted from the Teutons fixed, despite circumstantial reports current that $18,000,000,000 to $20,000,000,000 has been agreed to by the council. I have today ascertained from competent sources that the total sum has not yet been ascertained, but the American total estimate is the lower, namely, $18,000,000,000, the claim advanced by France. I am further informed that the French suggest leaving the detailed bill for experts to make out after the signature of the treaty obliging the Teutons in advance to accept whatever decision these may reach, but the provisional character of this settlement is repugnant to the Anglo-Saxons and would be rejected, not perhaps unreasonably, by Germany.

The allies' confidence in Marshal Foch's military judgment has been thrown into the scale by the Marshal when propounding his view on the military measures and precautions to be adopted on both banks of the Rhine. Although his proposals appeared to certain delegates to transcend real exigencies, they are understood to concur in the contention that both banks must be freed from all kinds of restrictions for military operations. But they presumably deem this expedient, reinforced by such control as France and Belgium may decide upon after the departure of the British and American troops, adequate for all eventualities.

This is the line of cleavage that separates them from their French allies, who hold firmly that the danger to France, involving danger to the world, should be confronted with combined forces, and, consequently, that guarantees against aggression on the Rhine banks should be maintained by Great Britain and the United States permanently and effectively. The allies' plan is that all four states to keep troops always on the watch there. The expenditure for such occupation should be distributed among the four nations.

With regard to the Saar basin, administrative authority is claimed be-

GERMANS APPEAL TO WILSON TO "STICK TO 14 POINTS"

Leading Societies Warn President Country Might Prefer Bolshevism—"America Fertile Field for Communism."

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Thursday, April 3.—Leading ethical, philosophical and religious societies of Germany have addressed an appeal to President Wilson, giving warning against a disregard of principles to which Mr. Wilson has pledged himself, which, they say, induced Germany to lay down her arms. The appeal declares that if the Germans are driven to desperation, they would "rather become Bolsheviks than slaves," and charges the Czechs and Poles with anticipating the conclusions of the peace conference and violating the Wilsonian principles. It says the allies are "not only condoning the acts of the Czechs and Poles, but are supporting those nations."

It is maintained that the allies provoked anarchistic conditions in Germany by refusing to relax the blockade.

In discussing the possibility of a revival of militarism, the appeal says: "Only one thing could again weld the Germans of every state into a warlike power—the continuation of the policy of hate and annihilation that has been pursued by the allies."

Mr. Wilson is warned that the United States, "with its great fortune and million-dollar trusts," is a fertile field for communism, and is suggested that "wealthy Americans had better support the league of nations."

sides exploitation of the coal mines, but certain delegates, while disposed to allow the latter claim as a form of indemnity and, therefore, limited in time demur to the former in France's own interest.

Councils Russian Policy.
The council has apparently made up its mind about a Russian policy which will consist mainly in fighting Bolsheviks resolutely by proxy, so long as money can secure the military services of other peoples and in watching for a favorable opportunity to parley with its chiefs whenever they evince a disposition to modify their practices and clothe their principles in somewhat different formulas.

The league of nations scheme is receiving its finishing touches and everybody is looking forward to the peace treaty, save for trepidation, others with profound disappointment and nobody with satisfaction.

Personally I am convinced that the council of four has quite modified its view respecting Danzig, which it refused to allow to Germany, hesitates to award to Poland, and contemplates transforming into a free port, while neutralizing the corridor between Danzig and the Polish frontier and appointing a German-Polish administration. The Poles regard this arrangement as unworkable and apprehensive that it will be deemed harsh and plunged them into the depths of despair. But the matter is not yet settled definitely.

GERMAN COMMISSION REGRESSES

Decides That Execution of British Trade Ship Captain Did Not Violate International Law.

By the Associated Press.
COPENHAGEN, April 4.—The commission investigating the execution of Capt. Charles Fryatt, British mercantile marine captain, by the Germans, in Mar., has decided that the shooting of the seaman did not violate international law.

The commission, however, expressed regret at the rapidity with which the sentence of death was carried out, according to advice received here from Berlin, where the investigation was held.

Capt. Fryatt was executed on a charge of having attempted to ram a German submarine.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, April 4.—Prof. Shuecking, a member of the Fryatt Investigating Commission, explained the grounds on which the verdict of death was based, declared there was no obligation under international law to grant the request of the American embassy to appear as a defender for Capt. Fryatt. The Foreign Office, Prof. Shuecking said, made endeavor in this direction, but various circumstances rendered such action impossible.

Anti-Prohibition Movement.
Petitions to submit to a referendum of the ratification by the Missouri Legislature of the constitutional prohibition amendment will be distributed in 11 Missouri counties April 15. Arthur Stoehr, president of the Tenth Ward Improvement Association, which is sponsoring the movement, said that although only 32,450 signatures are necessary the association expects to obtain 100,000. About 1500 petitions will be circulated.

RAILROADS GIVING MEN JOBS
R. F. Bush, regional director of railroads, announced today that he had been informed that certain persons, representing themselves as delegates of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, are soliciting funds outside railroad circles for the alleged purpose of providing for returned soldiers to whom the railroads have not furnished employment.

He said there is no ground for the statement that railroads are not properly providing for returned soldiers, and asserted they are given the jobs they formerly held or places equally as good.

U. S. MEDICAL OFFICERS LAX, THEIR CHIEF SAYS

Doctors in France Warned They for Spread of Typhoid.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Charges of gross carelessness and negligence in preventing and controlling the spread of typhoid and paratyphoid fevers in the army are made against many medical officers serving with the forces overseas in a circular published by the chief surgeon of the American Expeditionary Forces and made public here today by the Public Health Service in connection with a warning that vaccination does not give complete immunity from typhoid.

The chief surgeon cites many instances where epidemics prevailed among troops, especially during the last offensives.

Some Grossly Negligent.

"It would appear," the circular continues, "that many officers utterly failed to grasp the significance of these reports and warnings."

"Notwithstanding the fact that typhoid and paratyphoid fevers are epidemic in the United States and in our extensive experience."

"It is evident that many medical officers have gained but little knowledge of the fundamental principles underlying prevention and control."

The chief surgeon warns his subordinates that now the excuse, "there is a war on," no longer will be tolerated and that they will be held responsible for proper supervision of the health of troops.

Berlin Hears Bazaar Negotiates for Alliance With Russia.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, via Copenhagen, Thursday, April 3.—The Bavarian Government has begun negotiations for the conclusion of an alliance with Russia, according to advices from Munich.

Another of President Wilson's envoys said the real issue was whether President Wilson's principle of self-determination was to be upheld. The President, he said, did not regard this as a principle which should be applied when favorable to the Entente, as it was applied to all others alike. Just now he was assembled, the issues over Danzig, the Saar valley and the region west of the Rhine brought up this principle of self-determination, and it was not clear that the transfer of territorial control of these localities would be in accordance with the wishes and determination of their peoples.

King Albert of Belgium figured prominently during yesterday's conference. The Belgian monarch called E. M. House at 11 o'clock in the morning and spoke to him. President Wilson. The call of King Albert was a decided novelty for which veterans of royal procedure said there was no precedent. The King wore the uniform of a Commander in Chief of the Belgian army and was accompanied by a staff officer. He was met at the entrance of the residence of House by himself, who escorted him to his private office, where a series of conferences constantly going on.

Offers Royal Palace.

It is understood that King Albert, as it is expected it will be, colleges of the State will be saved hundreds of thousands of dollars, Lindenwood College at St. Charles will receive the payment of approximately $500,000 on a $2,000,000 bequest from the James Gay Butler estate. The measure is retroactive to the extent that bequests already made out on which the tax has not been paid are relieved of the tax.

Radicals Will Have Right of Free Speech and Press Only So Long as They Preach Change by Orderly Plan.

DOCTRINE OF FORCE WON'T BE TOLERATED

Palmer Stands on Sherman Law in Business, and on Constitution in Dealing With Radical Wave.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE.

WASHINGTON. April 4.—Bolshewism, in so far as it may mean the advocacy of anything seeking to overthrow by force the Government of the United States or American institutions, will be dealt with severely by the Department of Justice.

Prosecutions for the time being will be based on war statutes, and, later on, when peace has been declared, arrests can be made under the treason laws, or special legislation will be sought from Congress.

Nothing will be done to abridge the right of free speech or a free press. Any reform, however far-reaching in its nature, can be preached provided the machinery recognized for the change is the machinery created by the Constitution—namely, the elections and the ballots of the people. But no doctrine that looks toward violence will be countenanced.

This does the Government propose to do fine and squelch at the outset any organized movement in imitation of anarchists or revolutionaries abroad. A. Mitchell Palmer, the Attorney-General, today gave some expressions of the policy he intends to pursue in regard to this question.

Principles to Keep in Mind.

"There are two principles to be kept in mind, however," said the Attorney-General, "that we must, on the one hand, preserve the ancient liberties guaranteed by the Constitution, of freedom of the press and freedom of speech, and that, on the other hand, we must not permit the enlargement of those liberties."

"As long as efforts are made in the exercise of these guaranteed rights looking to reforms, however radical, through the political method—that is, by the education of the people along that line—I am disposed in the offering—and looking to a result from the action of the people under these methods as fixed by our laws, no interference is necessary."

"But when the effort looks to the direct method—by force or other means—not recognized under our laws—to accomplish such alleged reforms, conduct of that sort will be carefully scrutinized and ought to be nipped in the beginning."

The Attorney-General assured me that the movement of so-called Bolsheviks in America was comparatively insignificant, and that he believed the masses of people in the United States possessed far too much intelligence to be misled by irresponsible agitators. In fact, he thought the very extravagance of the demands or reforms exploited would tend in most cases to keep any considerable body of public opinion from being swayed by them.

Palmer Gets His Bearings.

Palmer has been at his job just a few weeks, but he has delved into the Department of Justice and got his bearings. He proposes that the Sherman anti-trust law shall not become obsolete in these returning days of competition, and that the Government, moreover, shall deal fairly with the radical wave which shows signs of cropping out here and there in this country.

For the present the Department of Justice considers a state of war is still existent, and that the espionage service penetrates and punishes for anything resembling sedition.

On the other hand, much of this law was directed toward the teachings of military indoctrination or the promotion of doctrines tending to impede or obstruct the progress of the war.

But military operations have ceased. Therefore, those portions of the law which refer to seditions against the Government of the United States can be invoked.

Subsequently, when a proclamation of peace will have been made by the President, prosecutions will come under previously existing statutes relating to treason. Many State Legislatures, being anxious in the meantime to leave no stone unturned in the suppression of incipient movements of anarchists, are passing laws, making it criminal to preach doctrines of overthrow by force of existing institutions.

But in most cases jurisdiction probably will be found to rest with Federal agencies, and that is why a pronouncement of policy by the new Attorney-General is of special value at this time.

Summary of Policy.

To summarize, the policy of the Department of Justice means just this: Anybody can get up in public meetings and advocate, for example, any system of public or private or communistic ownership of anything, and if none of the existing political parties care to embrace such questions in their platforms and name candidates to go before the people to gain support at the polls on such whether it was required to follow this plan. Daues' ordinance would make it still more difficult if the Board of Aldermen adopts the essential parts of an ordinance which is proposed by City Counselor Daues.

City Counselor Proposes Ordinance to Increase in Several Ways the Difficulties of Removing a Public Official.

Daues' ordinance provides that no person circulating a recall petition shall be paid, either on the basis of time spent or number of signatures obtained. Solicitors must be registered voters. It is provided, shall be approved by the Election Board, all persons of good moral character, and shall be registered with the board before they begin circulating petitions.

Fifty Days for Circulation.

The original petitions must be returned within 50 days from the time the Election Board gives notice that the petitions are ready for distribution. Supplementary petitions, as provided by the charter, must be made up within a 20 days' period.

Daues' bill also provides that it shall be the duty of the Election Board to compare the signatures required to be affected by the ordinance. This requirement, according to A. H. Daues, the city charter, is probably more difficult than the recall requirement of any other city charter. It is that the number of signatures must equal 20 per cent of the number of registered voters at the last election for Mayor, and that this number must include 20 per cent of the voters in each of 19 wards.

proposals, then it is proper and legal to advocate the formation of a new political party to embrace these new formulas.

Such a party, to get recognition as a political instrumentality, must abide by the laws and rules of the Federal Government and the several States.

This is Arbor day, and Mayor Kiel has asked residents to plant trees to keep green the memory of St. Louisans who lost their lives during the war.

The Attorney-General, today gave some expressions of the policy he intends to pursue in regard to this question.

Principles to Keep in Mind.

"There are two principles to be kept in mind, however," said the Attorney-General, "that we must, on the one hand, preserve the ancient liberties guaranteed by the Constitution, of freedom of the press and freedom of speech, and that, on the other hand, we must not permit the enlargement of those liberties."

Nothing will be done to abridge the right of free speech or a free press. Any reform, however far-reaching in its nature, can be preached provided the machinery recognized for the change is the machinery created by the Constitution—namely, the elections and the ballots of the people. But no doctrine that looks toward violence will be countenanced.

The Smartest Easter Clothes

Are Now Being Shown in the Two Departments That Specialize in Misses' and Girls' Apparel.

BOTH the Misses' Store and the Girls' Store are splendidly prepared to supply the new Suits, Wraps and Frocks for Easter wear. The varieties were never so complete, and we think the styles were never more charming than these shown for Spring.

In the Misses' Store

SUITS from the smart box coat to the good-looking Russian blouse are shown in exclusive models here. Girls who look for originality as well as new materials and colors will like these suits of tricotine, twill or serge in tan, gray, rookie or navy blue. Prices are $35 to $125

Among the smart Capes shown are those in draped styles, those with vestee fronts, or those in coat effect with flare backs. Capes are the smartest wraps for Spring—their popularity even exceeds that of the regulation coat. Capes are of Bolivia, twill, serge or tricotine. Prices are $14.75 to $85.00.

Lovely indeed are the Frocks for Spring. They are of taffeta, Georgette or foulard and have that touch of distinctiveness that is achieved by original lines and trimmings. Prices are $24.75 to $125.00.

In the Girls' Store

GIRLS will be delighted with the variety of new dresses and coats that are being shown in the Girls' Store.

The smartest tub frocks of gingham or chambray come in plaids and stripes or solid colors. Included in this lot are the Elsie Dinsmore frocks that all girls like—prices are $3.95 to $5.95. Linen frocks in stunning color combinations are designed especially for the hard-to-fit girl and are priced

$11.75 to $24.75

White Frocks for the girl who is to be confirmed, are of voile or organdie, trimmed with lace and fluttering ribbons. There are also lovely models of white Georgette crepe. Prices are $6.00 and up.

Capes for girls grow more popular every day. Here you will find a style to suit every girl's taste. Many are in military styles. The materials are serge, velour and Silvertone. Prices $6.50 to $35.00.

Children's Easter Hats

Capes Swing Into Style

HATS for children divide themselves into two classes—School Hats and Dress Hats. School Hats are always tailored, but Dress Hats are as fancy and elaborate as any little girl could wish for.

There are Dress Hats of braid and Georgette crepe combined—these are usually flower-trimmed poke shapes. Some Organdie Hats are trimmed with velvet streamers and cherries. Leghorn Hats in mushroom shape are trimmed with daisies and ribbon. Prices are from $5 to $10.

The School Hats are of Milan straw with long ribbon streamers, mushroom, poke or roll-brim styles. There are hundreds of different Hats in both black and colors. Prices are from $1.68, $2.98 to $3.98.

(Third Floor.)

Georgette Blouses

Special $5.00

THROUGH a special purchase the Blouse Section is offering new Georgette Crepe Blouses at $5.00. These are in white or flesh-pink and are trimmed with beads, embroidery or braid. Many of them are reproductions of more expensive models.

(Third Floor.)

Smart Easter Footwear

NEW Oxfords with thin edge soles and high-curved heels, come in black glazed kid, patent leather, dark tan kid skin, black satin and black suede. These are excellent values at $6.00

New Colonial Pumps of patent leather or bright glazed kid have attractive imitation cut steel buckles and high covered French heels.

Braid, buttons and vestees are among the trimmings. The suit illustrated is of black and white checked fabric, with the new long reverie and narrow belt.

Students will find our showing of the waistline model especially created for them, a popular style—especially the smart blue, brown and green suits.

Dress-Up Week for Men

Starts Tomorrow at Vandervoort's

It's Dress-Up Week—not only in St. Louis but throughout the entire country—every large city is participating in this National Movement—its purpose is to impress upon men the necessity of being properly and correctly attired—because appearance IS worth much nowadays to the man who would be a success.

And with this in mind—we have made special preparations for exhibiting the very newest Suits, light-weight Overcoats and Furnishings during the week, which starts tomorrow.

The Smartest Style of 1919 Is the "Waistline" Model

These stylish Suits come in one, two and three button models, with slash pockets, skeleton lined and trimmed with silk. The popularity of this new model among the young business men is very great.

These Waistline Models may also be had in the "double-breasted camouflaged" model, which in reality is only a single-breasted suit with the double-breasted appearance—and there is the real double-breasted model in the blue-flannel only, with the slash pockets.

Students will find our showing of the waistline model especially created for them, a popular style—especially the smart blue, brown and green suits.

Then we have a splendid showing of the more conservative models for the business and professional man in the semi-form-fitting models and the plain sack suits.

Spring Overcoats and Gabardines are shown in the popular models in attractive colors.

Men's Clothing Shop—Second Floor.

PAUL BROWN BUYS DOWNTOWN BUI

About $1,000,000 Paid for Property Occupied by Union Electric Co. and Theat

The Union Electric Building, a 11-story fireproof structure on the southwest corner of Twelfth and Locust streets, was purchased yesterday by Paul Brown, a buyer for the Union Electric Light and Power Company, which Murray Carleton, a dry goods dealer and Unit ways director, is president.

The transfer deed gave chase price at $100, but stamps on the deed showed actual consideration was $60,000.

The building, which is on the most beautiful and substantial downtown district, is tenanted by the Union Electric Light and Power Company, under a 20-year lease, and Shubert-Jefferson Theater, frontage of 145 feet on Locust street and a depth of 100 feet.

Brown issued a statement he had bought the property for his children, because of his belief in the future of St. Louis, and his belief that the development of the Mississippi River as a carrier and the consequent extension of the trade territory to St. Louis would be reflected in increased realty values here.

ANNEXATION BILL GETS CALENDAR IN THE Committee Reports It Will Be Recommended to Sponsor for Passage.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. JEFFERSON CITY, April 4.—The annexation bill twice has seemed to have been in the House, was reported to the House Committee on Election Day yesterday afternoon, without action, which places the House calendar for early next week. As though it had been favorably reported.

Representative Wagner Louis said he considered it a decided victory, his whole effort having been to get the committee on the House. This is Wagner's annexation bill, two having been killed by the Committee on Boundaries. In drawing up the bill, he disguised its title to appear to be an election bill, an annexation bill, and sent it to the Elections Committee. A week ago the Senate reported favorably on a bill in the Senate.

It is rather late for a bill to be introduced, but it has not been enclosed in the House to receive favorable action, but Wagner would attempt to have it placed on the calendar at

PAUL BROWN BUYS BIG DOWNTOWN BUILDING

About $1,000,000 Paid for Property Occupied by Union Electric Co. and Theater.

The Union Electric Building, an 11-story fireproof structure at the southwest corner of Twelfth and Locust streets, was purchased yesterday by Paul Brown, a broker, of 10 Washington terrace, from the Union Electric Building Co., of which Murray Carleton, wholesale dry goods dealer and United Railways director, is president.

The transfer deed gave the purchase price as $100, but revenue stamps on the deed showed that the actual consideration was about $1,000,000.

The building, which is one of the most beautiful and substantial in the downtown district, is tenanted by the Union Electric Light and Power Co., under a 20-year lease and by the Shubert-Jefferson Theater. It has a frontage of 149 feet on Twelfth street and a depth of 100 feet on Locust street.

Brown made a statement in which he said he bought the property as an investment for his children and grandchildren, because of his faith in the future of St. Louis real estate and his belief that the development of the Mississippi River as a freight carrier and the consequent appreciation of the trade territory tributary to St. Louis would be reflected in increased realty values here.

ANNEXATION BILL GETS ON CALENDAR IN THE HOUSE

Committee Reports It Without Recommendation; Sponsor to Work for Passage.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 4.—The St. Louis annexation bill, which twice has seemed to have been killed in the House, was reported by the House Committee on Elections yesterday afternoon, without recommendation, an action which places it on the House calendar for engrossment, exactly as though it had been reported favorably.

Representative Wagner of St. Louis said he considered the report a decided victory, his whole fight so far having been to get the bill out of the committee and on the floor of the House. This is Wagner's third annexation bill, two having been killed by the Committee on County Boundaries. In drawing the third bill, he disguised its title to make it appear to be an election bill instead of an annexation bill, and the Speaker sent it to the Elections Committee. A week ago the Senate Committee reported favorably on a similar bill.

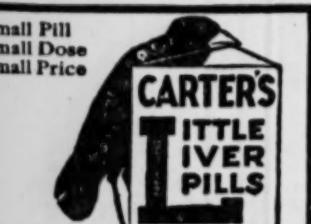

It is rather late for a bill which has not been engrossed in either House to receive favorable legislative action, but Wagner said today he would attempt to have it advanced on the calendar and passed.

WOMAN WITNESS IN ROBBERY CASE FOUND IN CHICAGO

She Will Be Brought to St. Louis to Testify Against Two

Mrs. Pearl Bobbitt, 19 years old, formerly of 3849 Delmar boulevard, who has been sought recently by the Circuit Attorney's office as a witness against Harry McHugh and Harry Kenyon, on a robbery charge, has been found in Chicago, and will be brought here to testify.

McHugh is charged with killing

John D. Conley, a discharged soldier, in a saloon at Easton and Warne avenues, Feb. 13, the day when Conley was to testify against him on another charge of robbery. When Mrs. Bobbitt later appeared in court to testify to her charge against McHugh, Mrs. McHugh spoke to her, and Mrs. Bobbitt charged that she threatened her life. Mrs. McHugh was arrested, but Mrs. Bobbitt disappeared soon afterward. She was found in Chicago when she applied for help in getting back to St. Louis.

Measures Passed and Engrossed Will

Add $135,000 to Salaries and Fees.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 4.—
Yesterday was red-letter day for "salary-grab" bills in the House.

Although a small and rapidly diminishing minority fought to and denounced each measure carrying increased salaries as a "raids" on the Treasury, the House passed and engrossed bills which will cost the $135,000 a year in increased salaries and fees.

The House Parker bills, carrying an increase in salaries from $5,500 to $500 a year for the 14 Circuit

Judges in St. Louis, were first engrossed. The bill raising the salaries of the two Judges of the Criminal Court in St. Louis from $4,000 to $5,000 were then engrossed. A bill to place court stenographers in St.

Louis on a straight salary of $3,000 a year was also engrossed. This was said to be an increase of approximately $500 for each stenographer.

The bill raising the salary and other emoluments of 36 Circuit

Judges out in the State from $3,200 to $4,500 was passed, as was also a bill increasing the minimum salary of stenographers in rural districts from $1,500 to $2,000 and increasing the amount of their fees for transcripts by 50 per cent.

Circuit Judge Peter H. Huck of

St. Genevieve, member of the Legislative Committee of the State Association of Circuit Judges, made his second appearance on the legislative floor of the capital today, and was here when the bill increasing

Circuit Judges' salaries was signed.

Circuit Judge Shain of Sedalia was a legislative visitor recently and

Circuit Judge John G. slate of Cole

County has been a frequent visitor in the House chamber.

It is clearly apparent to members of the Appropriations Committees and students of State finances that the Legislature will pass laws requiring the payment of much more than the revenues will bring in.

Indications of Growing Tendency to Recognize Rights of Outside Oil Interests in the Republic.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 4.—Private and official advices from Mexico City within the last few days are interpreted as clearly indicating a sudden change in temper in the republic toward foreign investments in Mexico, and that the coming session of Congress will clear the atmosphere of much of the hostility shown since the adoption of the 1917 constitution.

Diplomatic circles and officials of the State Department are much interested in the sudden change of front, as manifested in newspaper editorials and in statements by members of the Mexican Congress which have been telegraphed here.

The American oil interests in Mexico, it is learned, have not receded from the stand originally taken, that their vested rights in Mexico must be recognized, and that the anti-foreign and confiscatory future of the new Constitution must not operate ex-post facto against them. Nor have they shown any inclination to waive the rights in property which were purchased under the old Constitution.

The American, British and French Governments have protested to the Mexican Government against the operation of certain parts of the Constitution which were termed "confiscatory."

Attitude of the People.
From recent advices it appears the new attitude of the Mexican people, at least, and it is believed in official circles that this attitude is inspired by the Government, is to recognize the rights of all people, including foreigners, to their vested rights under international law.

The recent visit of Rafael Nieto, Acting Minister of Finance, to New York, where he consulted with international bankers regarding the prospect of a loan to Mexico, and the correspondence which has taken place between former Minister of Finance Limantour and President Carranza, which resulted in the latter extending an invitation to President Diaz' experienced financial aide, are believed to have had two influences that have changed the stand of the Mexican Government.

Nieto is known to have met with no success and little encouragement in New York beyond a promise of consideration of the request when Mexico showed she would accord proper treatment and protection to foreign investors. Limantour must have advised Carranza, officials believe, that it would be impossible to secure financial aid for Mexico so long as the Government maintained its hostile attitude toward foreign investors.

Carranza Would Build Three Railroads and Buy Another.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 4.—President Carranza has asked the extra session of the Mexican Congress, which has been called to meet May 1, to authorize the construction by the Federal Government of three railroad lines and the acquisition of another railway system, it is learned from official sources.

The Congress will be asked to appropriate 10,000,000 pesos (a peso is ordinarily .50 cents in United States gold) for the purchase of all or a majority of the stock of the Yucatan Railway System, now owned by the Henequen Association. One of the new lines will link this system with the territory of Quintana Roo, which has no railroad. The line will run from Peto, Yucatan, to Bacalar, in the northern part of the territory, and to Santa Cruz, the chief harbor of the territory on the east coast. This line was contemplated by Porfirio Diaz and surveys were made under his orders.

Santa Lucreia to Campeche.

Another line, the plan for which also dates back to the Diaz administration, is proposed to run from Santa Lucreia, in the State of Vera Cruz, on the Tehuantepec line, purchased a short time ago from the Pearson interests, to Campeche, where it will connect with another branch of the Yucatan system. This line will traverse a portion of the State of Chiapas and all of the State to Tabasco.

The third proposed line will run from some point on the Southern Pacific of Mexico, between Magdalena and Hermosillo, to Ensenada, the capital of Lower California. This road will enable Mexico to transport troops by rail from Central Mexico to Lower California without entering the United States.

MEDAL FOR ADMIRAL COWIE

Glass Makers Presentation for Navy's Liberty Loan Work.
By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Secretary Glass yesterday made the first presentation of a Treasury Department medal needed for distinguished service during the Liberty loan campaign to Rear Admiral Thomas J. Cowie, under whose leadership exceptional records were made by the navy in the Third and Fourth Liberty loans.

The first three of these medals made from captured German guns will go to President Wilson, former Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and Secretary Glass. These have not yet been presented. "It is on behalf of that navy which led the nation over the top in the Third and Fourth Liberty loans and which is sure to be in the forefront in the coming Victory Liberty loan that I am proud to accept this symbol of the navy's triumph," said Admiral Cowie.

FRECKLES

Now Is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots.

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as Othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots.

Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any druggist and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful, clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—ADV.

RAINBOW DIVISION TO LEAVE RHINE TOMORROW

Famous Unit Will Travel to Brest in 23 Trains, Men Riding in Box Cars.

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

COBLENZ, April 4.—The Forty-second (Rainbow) Division, which starts leaving the banks of the Rhine on Saturday, is now in the midst of the medical inspections. The Forty-second Division is particularly "peev'd" because the inspectors arrived after all the property had been turned in. Everything was in ship shape and the men were anticipating a few days of relaxation before starting on their journey.

All the cannon, ammunition and equipment, except what the men carry on their backs, was turned over and left behind. The men will wear their steel helmets and carry gas masks, and a few unloading rifles and pistols will be the only suggestion of warfare when they reach the shores of America.

Twenty-three special trains, each consisting of three cars for the officers, 27 box cars for the men and a kitchen car, have been organized to carry the division from the Rhine to Brest. The first train leaves at noon on Saturday and arrives at Brest early on Tuesday morning. The division expects to sail immediately for Newport News. It will parade in Washington and then scatter to the different States.

The units organized as artillery regiments have 80 per cent of the original personnel and the infantry regiments about 15 per cent. Major-General A. F. Flaggier, commanding the division, has sailed. The other commanding officers are Col. William N. Hughes, Chief of Staff; Brigadier-General Frank E. Cawell of the Eighty-third Brigade; Col. William J. Donovan of the 165th Regiment (Sixty-ninth New York); Col. Benson W. Hough of the 166th Regiment (Fourth Ohio); Brigadier-General Douglas MacArthur of the Eighty-fourth Brigade; Col. William F. Screws of the 147th Regiment (Fourth Alabama); Col. Matthew A. Tinley of the 168th Regiment (Third Ohio); Brigadier-General Geo. G. Gately of the Sixty-seventh Artillery Brigade; Col. Henry J. Reilly of the 149th Regiment (First Illinois); Col. Robert H. Tindell of the 150th Regiment (First Indiana); Col. Geo. E. Leach of the 151st Regiment (First Minnesota), and Col. John H. Johnson of the 117th Engineers.

The officers of the 149th Regiment, which is known as the "bache regiment," as only seven out of 53 received married, intend wearing their Sam Browne belts at home on the theory that what is good enough for fighting here is good enough to wear in America.

FARMERS COMBAT RADICALISM

Organization in Illinois Has 25,000 Members.

By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, April 4.—Farmers of the corn belt in Indiana, Illinois and Iowa are forming an organization to combat radicalism. In Illinois, the "Illinois Agricultural Association" is said to have 25,000 members in 60 counties. Harvey J. Sconce, who owns 4000 acres in Vermillion County, is president, and D. O. Thompson, an agricultural expert, is secretary, with headquarters in Chicago.

The organization, it is said, seeks to unite the farmers to work for the national weal, rather than just for the "farmer class." The announcement says: "The Illinois Agricultural Association will not become a non-partisan league or be controlled by Bolsheviks."

JEWELER SLAIN IN STORE

A man about 30 years old and said to have much valuable jewelry in his possession is being sought along the river front by police, following the murder of Emil Licht, a jeweler, at Quincy, Ill., last night. The murderer escaped in a rowboat headed down the river, according to a long distance telephone message received by police here.

Chief of Police Milton of Quincy said Licht was killed in his store with a piece of gas pipe and jewelry and money taken by the murderer. He said the man had been traced to the river bank, where a skiff was found to have been stolen.

SPEECH BY SENATOR SPENCER ON 'Y. W. C. A. DAY' PROGRAM

Exercises in Celebration of Organization's Work in War Will Be Held Sunday.

Recent proclamations by Gov. Gardner and Mayor Kiel, in which they designated next Sunday as "Y. W. C. A. day" in commemoration of the war services rendered by that organization, has resulted in a program being arranged with Senator Selden P. Spencer, Mrs. Harry January, Miss Mary E. Jackson of New York and the Rev. George H. Norton and W. M. Danner, the latter of the American Society of Missionaries to Lepers, as speakers.

Senator Spencer, Mrs. January and Rev. Norton will speak at a mass meeting at the association gymnasium, 1411 Locust street, at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, their subjects being "The Y. W. C. A. as a Civic Asset," "Patriotic Service of the Y. W. C. A." and "The Y. W. C. A. and Democracy."

Miss Jackson, a special industrial worker among colored girls, will speak at the Wheatley Branch of the association, 702 North Garrison avenue, at 4 p.m., and W. M. Danner will speak in the parlors of the association, 1411 Locust street, at 6 p.m. Motion picture films on Y. W. C. A. work will be shown in St. Louis theaters during the day, and prominent St. Louis ministers will call attention to the association's work Sunday morning.

With the sick and wounded were Walter Grostong, 341st Machine Gun Battalion, 3616 Castlewood avenue; Sol Muchnick, Ninth Infantry, 7800 North Broadview; Charles A. Kenny, Twenty-first Engineers.

WILL CONFER ON PLANS TO RECEIVE MISSOURI TROOPS

Mayor Kiel Will be Represented by His Secretary at Jefferson City Meeting.

Representatives of the Mayors of St. Louis and Kansas City will confer with Adjutant-General Harry Clark at Jefferson City next Monday morning for the purpose of arriving at a uniform program to be submitted to the War Department for the reception of Missouri troops upon their return from overseas.

Mayor Kiel was notified of the plan by Clark this morning, and appointed his secretary, Harry Crutcher, as St. Louis representative at the conference. He will go instructed to insist upon parades of the 138th Infantry and the 128th Field Artillery intact in St. Louis.

The Adjutant-General said the War Department had signified its readiness to have Missouri soldiers paraded in the principal cities of the State, but that requests from St. Louis, Kansas City and other cities were conflicting in regard to dates and details suggested, and that a more uniform program would have to be decided upon.

Driver Kicked Out of Auto

Passengers Leave Him 12 Miles Out in the County.

Two men posing as discharged soldiers assailed Thomas Taylor, 4559 Lewis Place, a service car driver, kicked him out of the machine and drove off, leaving him 12 miles out on the Bellefontaine road early today.

Taylor was helped into the city by another auto driver. He said the men had stopped him at 1 a.m. at Vandeventer and Finney avenues and had hired the machine "for a ride." They insisted, he said, going "into the country." When they turned on him and kicked him out of the machine, he said, they made no effort to take his money. He was cut and bruised on the face and neck.

P. F. HAMMAR ESTATE INVENTORY

The estate of Percy F. Hammar, secretary and treasurer of the Hammar Brothers' White Lead Co., who died on March 5, is valued at $220,000, according to an inventory filed yesterday.

The greater part of his property consists of stock in the white lead company. He owned $25,000 of Liberty Bonds. Hammar was unmarried. His brothers, Frank V. Hammar and Park G. Hammar, are named as beneficiaries. He lived at 4 North King's highway.

American Cows for France.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 4.—American dairy cattle are to be sent to devastated districts of France, where they will do their "bit" toward restoring the health of the children of those regions. More than 100 head of pure breed cattle recently purchased by the French Red Cross organization and selected from the best herds by experts of the United States Department of Agriculture, shortly will leave New York for Havre on a specially equipped transport. There is said to be an urgent demand for milk from the war-stricken areas.

Edward F. Kearney Estate.
An inventory of the estate of Edward F. Kearney, president of the Wabash Railroad, who died March 10, shows personal property valued at $62,907.94, of which there are $20,800 of Liberty bonds and $1000 in War Savings Stamps. In addition to other collateral assets, among his holdings was stock of the Wabash Railroad amounting to 100 shares.

FOR DEPOSITS BY CONTRACTORS

Ordinance to Make Electrical Firms Pay for Inspections.

An ordinance providing for the deposit of $50 with the City Treasurer by each electrical contractor in St. Louis as a guarantee fund for the payment of city electrical inspection fees, will become effective April 11.

The measure was enacted at the request of H. E. Robinson, Supervisor of City Lighting, because the city has been unable to collect inspection fees in many instances because of contractors going out of business. There are approximately 300 contractors in business at present.

To EMPLOYERS

Put the saving idea into your employees' heads, for your own sake as well as theirs. The thrift habit will soon reflect itself in their daily business attitude. The man with a bank account is more efficient, more earnest. He worries less. He has more pride and self-respect. He is less apt to become dissatisfied or restless. He sticks, and becomes more and more valuable to you as the years go by.

So ask your employee to open Mercantile Savings accounts. They'll appreciate your interest, and we'll appreciate your courtesy in furnishing us these banking prospects.

If you wish it we will send a representative to open accounts for those of your employees who accept your advice.

SHE BECAME A BRIDE
AT HIGH NOON TODAY

Mrs. George A. Caine

MISS MARY F. SIELING
MARRIES ARMY OFFICER

Becomes the Bride of Lieut. George A. Caine at a High Noon Wedding.

A n interesting wedding of today was that of Miss Mary F. Sieling to Lieut. George A. Caine which was solemnized at the Second Baptist Church at high noon with the Rev. Dr. Bitting officiating. Only the relatives and close friends were asked to the ceremony and the bride's only attendant was Mrs. Ben Langan who served as matron of honor. Mr. Langan acted as best man and the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Arthur Price.

The bride was gowned in a dark blue tailored traveling suit with hat to correspond and wore a corsage of violets and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Langan wore a gown of navy blue taffeta with hat to match and her corsage was of lavender sweet peas and pink rosebuds.

Following the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast at the M. A. A. and later Lieut. Caine and his bride will depart for Washington, D. C., where they will reside while he is stationed at Camp Humphreys, Va. He is at present on detached duty having recently returned from France where he served 18 months with the Twelfth Engineers.

Mr. Caine is the daughter of Mrs. Thomas M. Grace of 5792 Waterman avenue and has been a popular member of her set. Lieut. Caine is from Chicago and is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Caine who came to be present at the marriage.

Social Items

Mr. and Mrs. David N. O'Neill of 6481 Ellsworth avenue are content planning a year's stay in California and expect to depart the early part of June for Berkeley. Mrs. O'Neill, who has taken an active part in social affairs, suffrage and welfare work of various kinds, will be greatly missed during her absence.

Mrs. Richard Glidhams of 3625 Russell avenue, who returned last week from a visit in Chicago, has gone to Atlanta, Ga., where she will be the guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Paul A. Brickey, for an extended visit.

Mrs. Ellis Fischel of 82 Aberdeen has returned from a several weeks' visit in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil A. McMillan of 6500 Forsythe boulevard have had as their guest this week Dr. Anna Howard Shaw of New York, who remained over after the suffrage convention for a much-needed rest and recreation.

Mrs. Roberta S. Oliver will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. Wilson Keyser of 6158 Pershing avenue, for several weeks before going to Buffalo, N. Y., where she will spend the summer with her son, Willard Oliver, who formerly resided in St. Louis.

A large number of fashionable matrons make up the list of patrons for the Musical Tea to be given tomorrow afternoon by the St. Louis Pageant Choral Society in the ball room of the Statler Hotel at 4 o'clock. The Pageant Chorus will give a musical program and short talks will be made by Mrs. Philip N. Moore, Mrs. George Gellhorn, Rabbi Leon Harrison, Charles M. Hay and John B. Egan, on the civic and musical value of the society. Dr. John Gundlach will preside and one of the guests of honor will be Miss Margaret Anglin, the actress.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy S. Sachs have returned to the Washington Hotel after spending the winter in Florida, Cuba and other winter resorts.

The Troop Train Service Committee of the Y. M. C. A. "Hut" of which Mrs. John S. Vimont is chairman will give a luncheon in the ball room of Statler Hotel on Monday at 12:30 o'clock. Members of the Information Booth and Canteen Committees have also been asked and reservations should be made with Mrs. C. Hall, 10 North King's highway.

low the performance both nights and the affair is under the direction of Mrs. Jane Holman.

The "mixer" mass meeting and dance being formed by Pep Patrol and Iota Phi Kappa of Washington University, will take place this evening at Francis Gymnasium. The proceeds are to be devoted to the French orphans' fund, girls at the University.

Charles H. Teichmann dies; WAS HEAD OF COMMISSION FIRM

He Was 87 and Had Been a Member of the Merchants' Exchange Since 1856.

Charles H. Teichmann, 87 years old, 1618 Mississippi avenue, died at his home yesterday afternoon from pneumonia after an illness of 11 weeks. For more than fifty years he was head of the Teichmann Commission Company, which was a member of the Merchants' Exchange since 1856, and at one time vice president of that organization. He was born in Hanover, Germany.

His son, Otto L. Teichmann, former member of the Board of Police Commissioners, is president of the United States Bank of St. Louis. Another son, Dr. William C. Teichmann, who for several years was in the United States consul service in Europe, now is a resident of Brooklyn, N. Y. Arrangements for the funeral will be delayed pending his arrival. It is believed, however, that the funeral will be Sunday. Teichmann also is survived by a daughter, Miss Anna M. Teichmann.

EMPLOYEE TO BE A DIRECTOR

Union Electric Workers Will Select Man for Board.

The Union Electric Light and Power Co. has announced that a representative of its employees is to be placed on its board of directors. Vice President Rufner of the company, in announcing the plan, said it was a measure for the increase of production, through harmonious cooperation between the company and its employees.

The representative of the employees will be chosen at an election of the Employees' Mutual Benefit Association, of which W. D. Alderson is president.

GENERAL MOTORS TO SPEND $4,135,000 HERE

Plan for Extension of Plants,
With Expenditure of $37,-
000,000, Announced.

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Mich., April 4.—The General Motors Corporation yesterday announced plans for the extension of its plants in various parts of the country, involving an expenditure of more than $37,000,000 "as an answer to the feeling of uncertainty in industrial and financial circles over post-war conditions," as W. C.
Durant, president and general manager of the corporation, put it.

Of the $37,000,000 budget, $26,- 000,000 will be expended in Michigan, the Detroit allotment amounting to $12,650,000, providing for a 15-story office building and new plant for the Cadillac Motor Car Co.
Six millions will go to Flint and expenditures in Pontiac, Lansing and Saginaw amount to more than one million. Amounts to be expended on construction work in other cities are: Janesville, Wis., $4,500,- 000; St. Louis, $4,135,000; Bristol,
Conn., $1,028,000, and Muncie, Ind., $800,000.

The fact that the General Motors
Co. planned to erect a large plant for the making and assembling of Chevrolet, Cadillac and Buick automobiles in St. Louis was made known last May, after the stock of the local Chevrolet company had been sold for $1,000,000 to the Chevrolet Motor Car Co. of New York, a subsidiary of the General Motors Co.

A deal was closed June 2 last for the purchase by the General Motors
Co. of a tract of 105 acres of land at Natural Bridge and Union avenues, the site of the old Union racetrack, and it was said the company would invest several million dollars in a factory there. Preparations for the building of this plant have been under way for several months.

J. J. Hagen Returns to St. Louis.
Jackson J. Hagen has returned from Cleveland, O., to again make his home in St. Louis. His departure from the city and the jeweler's house with which he had so long been connected was quite a surprise to his many friends and customers. He will welcome them again, this time, however, at the Merrick-Aehle-Hutchinson
Jewelry Co., Tenth and Locust streets.—ADV.

CITATIONS OF MISSOURI AND ILLINOIS SOLDIERS FOR D. S. C.

Corporal From This State Was Wounded Before Starting to Lead Platoon in Attack.

Citations of a Missouri and an Illinois member of the army, for extraordinary heroism in action, with the award of the Distinguished Service
Cross, announced by the War
Department today, are as follows:

Corp. Jesse Whitaker, Company L, Twenty-third Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near St. Etienne-Aux-Armes, Oct. 3-9. A few minutes before the attack, in an offensive operation, Corp. Whitaker was wounded by shrapnel, Private Whitaker remained with his platoon and led his squad with great courage and initiative during the attack. Okla P. Whitaker, wife, Paris, Mo.

Private August Woerman, Company A, 321st Machine Gun Battalion. For extraordinary heroism in action near Sommerance, Oct. 15. Although wounded by shrapnel, Private Woerman remained on duty throughout the entire night and, after having his wounds dressed, insisted on returning for duty. He was again wounded the following day, once more disregarding his wound and continuing on duty. Mrs. Little Woerman, mother, 708 State street,
Quincy, Ill.

QUESTIONS TO COME UP AT NATIONAL C. OF C. CONVENTION

Most Important Will Be Merchant
Marine and Government Operation of Telephones.

The Merchant Marine and Government operation of telephones are two questions of national importance to be considered at the seventh annual convention of the United States Chamber of Commerce to be held in St. Louis April 29, 30 and May 1. The first question is to be considered at the request of the Philadelphia Bourse, which will offer a resolution for adoption by the chamber calling for private ownership of the Merchant Marine. The telephone question will be brought up by the Providence, R. I., Chamber, which will submit a protest against Government ownership and increased rates.

The question of requesting the Federal Trade Commission to revert to its former attitude of guiding rather than punishing business enterprises will be discussed at the request of the Merchants' Association of New York, and the Association of Commerce of Madison, Wis., will ask that the national body set in motion an organization working in harmony with Government agencies, to effect a permanent mobilization of industrial and agricultural resources.

UNFAVORABLE ACTION ON CONSTITUTION BILL

Senate Committee Refuses a Favorable Report, or One Without Recommendation.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 4.—A reactionary element of the Senate Committee on elections, including two St. Louis Senators, apparently has defeated the proposal for a new Constitution, by their refusal, yesterday afternoon, to vote for a favorable report on the new Constitution bill, and later by their refusal even to report the bill without recommendation.

It marked the second time during the day that St. Louis Senators took an active part in killing or hindering progressive legislation for which there has been a determined demand from St. Louis, as well as from other parts of the State.

The proposal for a new Constitution has had a rough time all during the session of the Legislature, both in the Senate and the House, but yesterday Sidney J. Roy, secretary of the New Constitution League, was led to believe the bill would be favorably reported by the Senate Committee.

Accompanied by Senators Duncan of Lincoln County and McCullough of Kansas City, he attended a meeting of the committees, which hurried him through his presentation of the bill. Chairman Buford, after a short hearing, announced that the committee would go into executive session to vote on a report on the measure.

Vote of St. Louisans.

Senators Kinney and Anderson of St. Louis, and Gardner of St. Louis County, voted with Senators Buford of Reynolds and Greene of Kansas City against reporting the bill favorably. Senators McClintic of Monroe and Goodson of Macon cast the only votes in favor of the measure. Senator Cook of Cole being absent.

Failing to obtain a favorable report, McClintic and Goodson sought to have it reported without recommendation, a report which would place it on the calendar, and which would serve as well as a favorable report. Kinney voted with them on the proposition, but at least one more vote was needed and neither Anderson nor Gardner would supply it.

The measure, under the rules, of the Senate, should have been reported back to the Senate by the Elections Committee early in February, the rules prohibiting a committee from holding a bill more than ten days unless for good reason the Senate grants additional time. This measure was sent to the committee January 23 and should have been reported back not later than Feb. 2.

Several hearings have been called, but the Senators have shown little disposition to give the bill serious consideration. On the occasion of one joint hearing in the Senate and House Committees, none of the Senators attended, being guests that evening at a dinner given by the Lieutenant Governor.

Vote on Tax Measure.

The action of the St. Louis Senators was in line with the votes of Senators Kinney, Brogan and Warner of St. Louis who, earlier in the day, voted in favor of a bill repealing the State Tax Commission, which is the first State Department ever organized for tax reform.

In the House, the new Constitution bill is held in the Committee on Elections, the Republican majority in the committee using as an excuse for refusing to make a favorable report that they will not favor a constitutional convention unless the Democratic majority in the Senate will agree to it. Considering of the State that the Republicans will have a greater representation in the Senate and House in the convention. It is a Democratic Committee in the Senate which is holding up the bill, and a Republican Committee in the House.

Efforts will be made by Senator McCullough, author of the bill, and others who are favorable to it, to induce the Senate Committee to reconsider its action and grant another hearing.

HANGS HIMSELF IN ATTIC

Harvey C. Blair, 42 years old, a checker, was found dead hanging in a rope to a rafter in his home, 2512 South Jefferson avenue, when his wife, Mrs. Emma Blair, and their daughter, Edna, 17 years old, returned home at 5 p. m. yesterday. Blair had gone to the attic, locked the door and, using a chair, had tied the rope around his neck and kicked the chair from under him. Mrs. Blair called police, who broke into the attic, when she found the dog locked. She said she could assign no cause for her husband's action.

KANSAS CITY, April 4.—Kansas City is to have a Victory monument to commemorate its soldier heroes. Plans for a $1,000,000 monument and a $500,000 building, which may be the repository of records, trophies and relics, were adopted last night by a unanimous vote of the Liberty Memorial Association.

The decision on the type of memorial was reached last night when a large meeting of the committee voted decisively for the "monument plus a building" plan.

The vote seven propositions before the committee. The first ballot cast was informal and for the purpose of getting the sentiment of the association. It resulted in 75 for a monument with building; 46 for a monument without additions; 26 wanted a memorial building with shaft or other monumental feature; six wanted a university, plus a monument, and six wanted a university without a monument.

The committee of 25, consisting of R. A. Long, Chairman of the Association; two vice-chairmen, the heads of sub-committees and selected members of the association will at once take up the task of memorial design with architects and, when it has been definitely chosen, will report back to the committee of 250 before adoption. Just as soon as the cost of the memorial can be estimated a campaign for funds will be started and a site selected.

ARRESTS FOLLOW OFFER OF JEWELRY FOR SALE

Two Men Taken in Saloon Raid Identified as Pair Who Looted About House Robbed.

Herman Voelker, 21 years old, 1420 Mississippi avenue, and Timothy McCarthy, 21 years old, 2901 St. Vincent avenue, two of 10 men taken into custody yesterday afternoon in a police raid on the saloon at 1292 Park avenue, were identified at Police Headquarters today by R. Tichachek, 3519 Hartford street, as two men he saw loitering in front of the residence of Henry J. Krabbe, 3519 Hartford street, the afternoon of March 28, when the Krabbe home was robbed of jewelry valued at $200.

The raid followed an anonymous telephone message received by Detective Chief Hannegan that a man was trying to dispose of jewelry to mechanics at the Century Electric Co. plant at Nineteenth and Pine streets. Otto Fischl, 1772 Mississippi avenue, was offering for sale jewelry taken from the Krabbe home. He had articles valued at about $150, which he said, he had purchased for $35 from Volker, who told detectives he was Joseph Krabbe, bartender at the Park avenue saloon, had arranged for the sale of the jewelry by Volker. Detectives sent to the saloon arrested everyone there, including Volker, and McCarthy. Both corroborated Fischl's story. Volker denied it.

Daniel Regan, 25 years old, 2566 Geyer avenue, one of the men taken in the raid, was shot several weeks ago in a poolroom at Mississippi and Park avenues. Detectives say that he was shot by Edward Hendler, 25, of two men involved in the trial in connection with the holdup of Hendler's jewelry and loan shop at 804 North Grand avenue, March 15, when jewelry valued at $5000 was stolen. The detectives say they had been seeking Volker as the chauffeur of the automobile which the jewelry store robbers escaped.

WOMAN AND 2 SONS APART 17 YEARS REUNITED BY WAR

East St. Louis Resident Tells How Draft Registration Led to Her Finding Them.

The war has brought about a reunion of Mrs. Ida Byrd of 456 North Third street, East St. Louis, with her sons, Clyde and Russell Byrd, after a separation of 17 years, during which time the boys believed their mother was dead.

Mrs. Byrd told a Post-Dispatch reporter yesterday that 17 years ago her husband took the children and left her stranded in Denison, Tex. She followed them to a town near Evansville, Ind., where she found them at the home of her husband's relatives. On the pretense that he would provide a home for her, Mrs. Byrd said, her husband took the children on a "house-hunting" trip and failed to return. She tried to trail them, but her funds gave out and she found herself in East St. Louis.

A relative of Mrs. Byrd who had registered for the draft at Evansville, Ind., met Clyde Byrd at the registration office, and notified Mrs. Byrd. She went to Evansville, but still had difficulty finding her husband, whom she learned, was employed at Hog Island. Mrs. Byrd returned to East St. Louis, and a few weeks later received a letter from her son, Clyde, who was in camp at Anniston, Ala. She visited him at the camp. She maintained a correspondence with both sons, and when Russell's employment at Hog Island terminated he went to the home of his mother in East St. Louis. Last week he enlisted in the army for one year, and is stationed at Jefferson Barracks. He is 21 years old. Clyde, who is 23, was mustered out of service two weeks ago and is living at the home of his mother.

INGENIOUS CONCERT BY MUSIC SUPERVISORS

Series of Numbers Typify Nations' Entry Into War and Germany's Downfall.

Some 250 delegates to the Music Supervisors' National Conference, having resolved themselves into a chorus, and being every one a trained singer, regaled a big audience at the Odeon last night with the most skillful, euphonious and spirited ensemble vocalism heard here for years. They were under the rousing baton of Dr. Hollis Dann, head of the music department at Cornell University, and were accompanied by the Symphony Orchestra.

The supervisors, at their annual convention in 1916, adopted the plan of forming a chorus among themselves and giving a concert, for the delectation of themselves as much as of the public. The idea has since been followed each year. There is, of course, little time for rehearsal—only four rehearsals were held for last night's concert—but the members, veteran in musicianship, accustomed to sight-reading, make little of that handicap. Many of the numbers they gave were not at all easy, but, save for an occasional sketchiness, they dispensed the music not only with technical facility, but with fine enthusiasm and eloquent expression.

The program arranged for them was very ingenious, it being a series of selected numbers typifying the progress of the war. The national anthems of Belgium, France, England, Italy and the United States symbolized the order in which these nations were drawn into the conflict. As the strains of each began, there appeared on the stage a soldier in the uniform and bearing the banner of the respective countries.

"The Americans Come." Then came Fay Foster's famous song, "The Americans Come," with its clever insertion of figures from Cohen's "Song." There, it was so well received that it was repeated. Next followed Arthur Edward Johnstone's "America's Message," a plea for lasting peace, in which the audience sang two stanzas of "America" in stirring counterpart to the chorus.

The downfall of Germany was celebrated in Gounod's setting of the 137th Psalm, "By Babylon's Wave." The ensuing selections were T. Teritus Noble's "Soul of the Righteous," Sir Arthur Sullivan's "Sink and Scatter, Clouds of War," which was delivered with artistic expressiveness; Percy E. Fletcher's "Song of Victory," which was encoresed, and, as a climax, Handel's majestic "Hallelujah Chorus" from "The Messiah." In several of these the ear was flooded by the great volume of sound rising from the chorus, the orchestra and the Odeon organ.

"Tannhauser" Overture. The concert began with the overture from "Tannhauser," conducted by Director Zach, and then a chorus of about 300 selected high school students sang seven numbers under the direction of E. L. Coburn, in which there appeared such names as Gounod, Rachmaninoff and Beethoven. Director Zach came forward again to conduct Tschaikowsky's "Marche Slave," and received a prolonged ovation from the spectators gathered on the stage. The evening came to an end with a community singing directed by George Edwin Knapp.

The final sessions of the conference are being held at Hotel Statler today. They will close at 5 p. m. with "Auld Lang Syne" and "The Star Spangled Banner," led by Dr. Hollis Dann, the newly-elected president.

The speakers and their subjects today are: "The Relation of the Woman's Club to the Musical Life of the Community," Mrs. William D. Steele, Sedalia, Mo.; "National Week of Song," North Tonawanda, N. Y.; "The Relationship of the School of Music Supervisors to the Various Agencies Engaged in Community Music Work," H. O. Ferguson, Lincoln, Neb.; "Music As a Means of Socialization," Dr. George E. Payne, St. Louis; Symposium on "Music, the Common Heritage of Humanity."

GOVERNMENT GETS APPEAL IN NAT GOLDSTEIN'S CASE

Judge Pollock Had Ordered Stricken From Records Allegations of False Statements.

M. R. Bevington, chief naturalization examiner, today was notified that Judge Pollock, at Kansas City, Kan., yesterday granted an appeal to the Government from his ruling of Oct. 7 last in which he ordered expunged from the record a statement which he had made in a former ruling that Nat Goldstein, clerk of the St. Louis Circuit Court, and William Sachs had made false statements when appearing as naturalization witnesses for Sol Glubok.

This will reopen the question as to whether Goldstein and Sachs knowingly made false statements. The Court ordered that they be served with notice of the appeal and be prepared to make answer in the United States Court of Appeals within 60 days.

Another St. Louisian Home.

Lawrence Lindeman, 25 years old, 154th Machine Gun Battalion, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sol Lindeman, 3356 South Grand avenue, has arrived in New York from overseas service and is awaiting assignment to a demobilization camp. He was a runner for his battalion. He was severely wounded shortly before the armistice, but has written relatives that he is now completely recovered.

"B Y GOLLY, I guess you think you own this town!" an embittered laborer complained, one day, as Georgie rode his pony straight through a pile of sand the old man was sieving.

"The Magnificent Ambersons"

BY

Booth Tarkington

Georgie Minafer, grandson of old Major Amberson, was an unbearable youngster, who developed into an insufferably snobbish young man. He antagonizes the reader, as he antagonized everyone around him—excepting only his doting mother—but he represents a type which the author wishes to portray.

To a considerable extent Georgie's mental attitude was that of the entire Amberson family—the "great" people of the little mid-western town in which they lived, and which they ruled uncompromisingly, and with an intolerant outlook upon those less fortunate than themselves.

Tarkington's narrative traces the rise of their town into a big, modern city, and relates their failure to ride on the tidal wave of its progress by which they were overwhelmed.

It is a history of the growth of scores of midland cities in the last three decades.

Two heart romances supply a strong love element.

"The Magnificent Ambersons," the latest novel by the author of "Monsieur Beaucaire," "The Gentleman From Indiana," "Penrod," "Seventeen," and other notable stories, will be published serially on the

COLBY TO TALK TONIGHT AT ODEON ON LEAGUE

Former Progressive Is Strong Advocate of Plan Being Drawn at Paris.

Bainbridge Colby, a native St. Louisan who resides in New York, will address a public mass meeting at the Odeon tonight on "A League of Nations." He will arrive in St. Louis at 5:25 p.m., and will be met at the station by a reception committee of business men, who invited him to St. Louis to speak.

Colby is a strong advocate of a league of nations plan, such as is now being drawn at Paris.

He was one of the founders of the Progressive party, and at the 1912 convention of that party made the nominating speech which named Theodore Roosevelt as the party's candidate for President. He was the Progressive party's candidate for Governor of New York in 1912, and two years later was a candidate for United States Senator on the same ticket.

Colby deserted the ranks of the Progressives when Roosevelt swung that party's support to Hughes, and became an active supporter of President Wilson. During the war he served as commissioner for the United States Shipping Board and was a member of the Emergency Fleet Corporation. He was a member of the American Commission to the Interallied Conference at Paris in 1917, and when that made all arrangements for British ships to bring back our returning soldiers.

The doors of the Odeon will be opened at 7 o'clock. The meeting is free and there will be no seats reserved except in the boxes, which will be held by members of the committee which arranged for the meeting.

NEGROES MAKING DRIVE TO RAISE A HOSPITAL FUND

Sum of $20,000 Needed to Carry on the Plant at Theresa Avenue and Pine Street.

The management of the People's Hospital for negroes is beginning a 10-day drive to raise $20,000 to pay for the plant at Theresa avenue and Pine street.

The property was transferred to the People's Hospital eight months ago. Many patients, mostly negroes, including charity cases, have been treated, 80 successful operations performed, the majority treated by negro surgeons, and a training school for negro girls opened, in which 10 young women are receiving instruction. The institution has a monthly expense of $900.

The officers are: M. J. Gilliam, president; principal of Lincoln School; Mrs. A. W. Craddock, vice president; C. H. Turner, secretary, teacher in Summer High School; W. D. Jackson, treasurer, vice president; St. Louis Union Bank; Dr. Edward L. Saunders, chairman Advisory Committee.

The drive will end in a mass meeting at the Pine Street Department Y. M. C. A., Sunday at 4 p.m. The speakers will be: Charles M. Hay, Dr. Cleveland H. Shutt and Lieut. George L. Vaughn.

THREE CHILDREN HURT BY CARS

One Youth of 15, Other Two a Boy

Three children were hurt in street car accidents in the city yesterday. Frank Kloey, 15 years old, at 1526 C street, Granite City, riding on northbound McKinley car at 5:30 p.m., jumped off, and ran in front of a southbound car, in front of 1900 North Twelfth street. He was taken to the city hospital in a serious condition.

Dorothy Vezeau, 5 years old, 1616 North Ninth street, was severely cut and bruised when hit by a belt line car in front of her home, at 3 p.m.

Robert Ketcham, 5, of 4939 Schollmeyer avenue, was hit by a westbound Cherokee car in front of 6894 Gravois avenue, at 6 p.m., suffering scalp wounds and concussion of the brain.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent; never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

JOSEPH PULITZER,

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

U. S. Employment Service.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I am in receipt of orders from the United States Labor Department at Washington, D. C., in which a statement is made that will be of interest to the citizens of St. Louis. It is this:

There appears to have arisen a misunderstanding of the purpose of the Emergency Committee on Employment of Soldiers, Sailors and War Workers organized by the Council of National Defense and a mistaken belief that the committee is taking over the work of the United States Employment Service because of the partial curtailment of its field organization necessitated by lack of funds. It should be plain to the country at large that the committee is a temporary body and that it and the Government department boards represented in the committee will not attempt to create a substitute employment service or in any way take over the functions of the United States Employment Service.

In view of the above, I urge the business men of St. Louis to co-operate in every way possible with the United States Employment Service. The Replacement Bureau for Returning Soldiers, Sailors and Marines, located at 992 Olive street (telephones Nos. Olive 3369, Olive 3382 and Central 756) has done excellent work having placed over 4200 soldiers, sailors and marines. The Civilian Bureau, located at 705 Market street has placed approximately 43,000 men and 4000 women since June 1, 1918.

If ask this further co-operation of our citizens in this much-needed work.

CLYDE A. REED,
Acting Examiner in Charge.

Thanks for Publicity.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The Equal Suffrage League of St. Louis wishes to express to you its heartfelt thanks for the wonderful publicity given by you to the National American Woman Suffrage Convention during the past week.

The courtesy and interest displayed by your paper, and the courtesy and alertness of the press representatives certainly was a large factor in making this convention, as Mrs. Catt said, "The best ever held anywhere." Yours very truly,

EQUAL SUFFRAGE LEAGUE OF ST. LOUIS.

EST. EDNA FROCHEL GELLHORN,
President.

Our Mexican Border Heroes.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Nothing but the bleak, barren sands and mountains to give them cheer. Nothing but the moon and stars at night to talk with. Mail once or twice a week. They have not seen a bright light, a trolley car or a decent woman, the joy of their hopes for 18 or 20 months. Flyer down like their yesterday's road towar holds no charm. These are the men who hold back the sky bands of Mexico when all is quiet. These are the men who are forced to remain in the service, who have beaten paths along the 1200 miles of barren lands while the canons are being demolished and the men are returning to their homes with warm welcomes from their fathers, their mothers, sisters, brothers and friends. These are the men who will continue to make life safe along the border for the $20 per month, while the business interests are getting many advantages men who are returning from the disbanded forces of America. We did not know they were on the border—we did not read about them—we did not know that they were the first to answer the call to put down the Huns. Yet they did all this and were assigned the task of guarding the Mexican frontier from the gulf to the Pacific Ocean, while the others who went over there are returning and being mustered out of the service. To the Mexican he stood as the wall upon which was written the notice: "You stand on your line and behave yourself." If they were here we might have seen some dugout camps attacking, invading army from the southwest. These are the men who are forced to remain down there miles and miles from civilization thinking of home and mother. Unconcerned heroes they are, but they have served and are serving their country. His one thought those nights must be of mother, all wrinkled and gray, sitting by her fireside thinking of her boy on the border. Can he ever return to the old home where things have changed so much and no one but mother will be anxious to hear the tales he will tell?

These are the men who are never praised, who never break into the public press, the boys who deserve great credit and who are showered little. In our mark of appreciation for the warriors held, let us not be carried away entirely by the deeds on France's torn fields; giving some credit to the lad who first answered his country's call and who is now protecting our resources in Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and in Lower California.

FINISH THE JOB.

The fighting men of America on land and sea finished their job quickly and thoroughly; the American people as a whole must finish their job by taking care of all our obligations growing out of the war.

The final job is supplying the money through the Victory Loan to meet all the Government's obligations and thus maintain its honor and credit.

Mr. W. H. Compton, head of the Eighth District Loan Organization aptly said, at the Victory Loan luncheon, that he was inclined to make his whole appeal to honor. The honor of the American people is the first consideration. The credit and obligations of the Government are sacred. In our popular Government the obligations of the Government are the obligations of each and every citizen. The Government is our agent. The responsibility and the work are ours.

As our authorized agent the Government has the power to take what it needs through taxation. We prefer, however, to have part of the burdens of the war taken care of by voluntary loans, every dollar of which will be repaid with interest. In helping the Government by taking Victory Loan bonds citizens help themselves—they invest their money in the best security in the world. They save money.

The nation made a splendid record in the war. We undertook to bring it to victorious end and we did it in short order. We gave essential aid to our war associates, not only in fighting men, but in food, supplies, money. We succored the perishing victims of war. We enabled the cause by dismantling any material advantage and by fixing high aims and just terms of peace. Asking nothing but the safety of democracy and the liberty and welfare of mankind, we are the moral masters of the world. Mankind looks to us for an equitable peace settlement and organized guarantees of just and enduring peace.

We must finish our job. We must finish the work of pacification, reorganization and reconstruction. We must do our part in guarding peace. We must maintain our soldiers abroad as long as they are needed, bring them safely home and place them in profitable activities. We must start all the wheels of industry and commerce. We must help to organize and reconstruct the industries of the peoples who have been ruined by the war. This work is not only philanthropic, it is profitable in the largest sense. Every dollar we give or lend for these purposes will come back with multiplied interest.

We have lost some precious lives that can never be replaced, but our resources are unimpaired. Our energies are not weakened in any degree. We occupy an enviable position and we must keep it.

The United States is a going concern and we must keep it going. With only 6 per cent of the population and 7 per cent of the land of the earth we produce 20 per cent of the world's supply of gold, 25 per cent of its wheat, 40 per cent of its iron and steel, 40 per cent of its lead, 40 per cent of its silver, 50 per cent of its zinc, 52 per cent of its coal, 60 per cent of its aluminum, 60 per cent of its copper, 60 per cent of its cotton, 66 per cent of its oil, 75 per cent of its corn and 85 per cent of its automobiles.

We operate 40 per cent of the world's railroads.

Before the war we owed other nations $5,000,000,000; we have wiped out that debt and foreign nations owe us $10,000,000,000. We hold the largest gold reserve in the world.

The money we have spent in the war—vast as that sum is—is a bagatelle compared with our wealth, our resources and the productive potentiality of our skill and energy. We can pledge the final loan and absorb it without a pinch. It will be a profitable savings account. Let us finish the job.

Then we can build broad and deep the foundation of unexampled prosperity, with honor bright and sound credit.

If Seattle can buy the street car system, run it with a 5-cent fare and raise the salaries of employees, what's the matter with St. Louis?

COLBY WILL ANSWER REED.

The reply which Bainbridge Colby is expected to make to Senator Reed, on the League of Nations, at the Odeon, Friday night, will be the reply of a man of affairs, of expert knowledge, to a theorist. Mr. Colby, a native St. Louisian, a former member of the Shipping Board and a member of the American Commission to the Interallied Conference in Paris, is an ardent supporter of President Wilson and of the League of Nations. Last February he made an eloquent and convincing reply to James M. Beck, who attacked President Wilson in a defamatory manner at a speech in New York on Lincoln's birthday.

Mr. Colby does not mind words. As one of the organizers of the Progressive party and a friend of Roosevelt, he thoroughly understands politics and public questions, and his speech in behalf of the League of Nations will undoubtedly prove both instructive and full of the liveliest interest. St. Louisans who wish to hear the latest word on this momentous subject will attend the Odeon meeting, which will be open to the public.

The motto of the partisan objectors to the league of nations is "If we didn't start it, it's wrong."

ISSUES THAT DON'T DIE.

Mayor Kiel says that the recall is a dead issue. One of the livest of present issues is whether an Election Board can defeat the popular will by arbitrarily throwing out signatures on recall petitions under a process similar to that by which elections used to be decided by throwing ballots out of the ballot box. A decision by the courts on that question is important, not only to vindicate the will of the people at present, but to remove a peril from the direct legislation powers of the voters in the future.

And the issues of permanent importance that gave rise to the recall movement are by no means dead. Such issues never die. The history of all political machines shows the difficulty with which they are combated in the height of their power. But every instance of arrogance and maladministration of which they are guilty has its place in the cumulative showing that leads to their ultimate undoing.

What sort of arithmetic is it that makes a quart of milk 13 cents and a pint of milk 8 cents?

UNEQUAL JUSTICE.

From the New York Times.

THE sedition law has worked out unequally. Offenders against it in the West have been dealt with according to the law. In the East men who have committed precisely the same offenses have gone free. It has become almost impossible to convict a seditionist in New York. Precisely the same degree of evidence that serves to convict one in the West is enough at most to hang a jury in New York. Now, the injustice of this is manifest. Either the men convicted in the West were unjustly convicted or the men acquitted in the East were unjustly acquitted. Either the prisoners or the Government was defrauded.

The money we have spent in the war—vast as that sum is—is a bagatelle compared with our wealth, our resources and the productive potentiality of our skill and energy. We can pledge the final loan and absorb it without a pinch. It will be a profitable savings account. Let us finish the job.

The evidence on which these people were convicted in the West or acquitted in the East is practically the same. There were differences, of course, in each case, but only differences of detail. They prosecuted the same war against the Government and people and army and navy of the United States, and prosecuted it in almost identical language—except, indeed, that some of those acquitted in the East prosecuted it in a more understated manner than some of those convicted in the West.

Your Name Is Hazel You Can Prove That You Are Under 30 Years of Age CALL ON EFFIE ELLSLER TO BE YOUR CHIEF WITNESS

Actress Declares That So Far as She Has Been Able to Discover Name Originated in Play "Hazel Kirke," in Which She First Played Leading Role Three Decades Ago—She Is Back on Stage After Caring for Mother 20 Years.

By Marguerite Martyn.

WELL, anyway, Hazel, if your mother did name you after the heroine in a melodrama which is aizediluvian as things move in the drama today, you can prove that you are not more than 30 years of age. Or, maybe you belong to a second generation of Hazels, in which case you can prove that the Hazel name was named after you was born within the last 30 years.

For well, she is the creator of Hazel Kirke, who created a new name for girls as easily as Mary Pickford has created a style in curls, with the testimony that it is only 30 years since the first known Hazel made her first appearance.

And, if you've always felt sort of apologetic for a mother who was so foolishly young and sentimental as to follow a fashion set by a popular actress to the extent of naming her baby for it, you have no need for feeling so, according to further testimony.

I think I expected to find a gray-haired, doddering old granny when I went to interview Effie Ellsler, who is playing "Old Lady 21" at the Shubert-Jefferson this week, and who shall we say, the Miss Pickford of another day. But Miss Ellsler was ready with several kinds of alibis, not only for the superannuation of Hazel Kirke, but for her own antiquity as misrepresented by her makeup as the Angie of her present play. I found, instead, in her room, at the Warwick Hotel, a brown-haired, smooth-faced, large-eyed woman with a figure so petite and manner so winsome and sprightly as many an ingenue might envy.

Nobody expects any woman to tell her real age, and Miss Ellsler hastened into explanations. Whatever her age is presumed to be by bald-headed old gentlemen who persist in telling her they cherish the romance of having gone to school with the creator of Hazel Kirke, by others who recall her early dates at which her name began appearing on the billboards, and by those who think she looks about as a woman of 60, nobody, I am sure, can fairly judge her.

"I play the part of a woman of 60, but I assure you I am well over the sunny side of 60. I always attended a convent where no boys were allowed when I was young, and my name began appearing on the billboards in plays that antedated Hazel Kirke before I was 12 years old," she declared.

"One of the differences between acting now and when I began," added Miss Ellsler, "is that nowadays parts are chosen for youthful actresses and those not so youthful. I played Eva in Uncle Tom's Cabin and Mary in Ten Nights in a Bar Room, almost as soon as I could walk, but I very soon aspired to play the characters of women older than myself. I was reading the classic blank verse of Virginia before I was 12. And"—here she almost tripped upon the deadly admission—"I was not yet 16 when I began playing Hazel Kirke in the early '80s."

"It took me 10 years to become a professional, and to continue acting until I was 26. My first role of grain could last at least three months. I was one of the emaciated herds of German coal miners who were no longer able to supply reduced meat ration of seven ounces per week, and the distribution of slightly over five pounds was still fluctuating.

Factories are running days a week on a short of hours. Should the coal strike continue and transportation be improved, they would be outlook for industry.

German manufacturers, particularly in the electrical and ray lines, assured the country that they would have no difficulty in doing a profitable business under the present wage and food and fuel difficulty.

Industrial situation is complicated by shortage of coal and raw materials.

EFFIE ELLSLER

Effers from the training of today, wherein actors specialize and are shown to fit particular parts rather than to play any part which may offer."

Noting the simplicity of her tastes, the entire absence of artificiality about her—her dress and hat aimed at neatness and freshness, not at style; not the least touch of makeup had been employed to make her face other than it was; her dressing table was adorned chiefly by a well-worn Bible and other religious books—I remarked:

"You must have led a more wholesome life than many other women of 60, but I assure you I am well over the sunny side of 60. I always attended a convent where no boys were allowed when I was young, and my name began appearing on the billboards, and in those who think she looks about as a woman of 60, nobody, I am sure, can fairly judge her, she says.

"I HAVE BEEN off the stage for 20 years, caring for my mother, who died a few months ago at the age of 95," she replied. "But I have no fault to find with women on the stage today. Specializing as they do, they do not need the solid foundation and have more time left for other interests. I find just as many lovable persons in the theater as I ever did, just as much real human nature one place as another. After all, the love one finds depends upon how much love one gives out, I love, humanity. The stage, the parts one plays, need not influence one's innate disposition, for though I am with a happy disposition though I always have played tearful parts."

Though she readily drops into reminiscence, one thing that may be said to those who fear betraying great age by remembering Hazel Kirke is that it is not old to meet Mr. Fox again. He sometimes eats things that come out of the water, but when he found that there were no oysters or fish in this pond he grew very fretty with Mr. Fox.

"I FEEL like using all of my 50 teeth, on Mr. Fox," said Billy Possum, the third day. Mr. Possum had that number of teeth and was very proud of it. "But what is the use of having them," he said to Tim, "if you have no use for them?"

That night Mr. Fox, who was rather worried and not sleeping well, heard Tim and Billy talking over a plan to get even with him for getting them on an island to starve, and he thought it was time he was moving, for what they planned to do the next day was to make Mr. Fox drink all the water in the pond, so they could get away.

"We will hold his head right in the water until he drinks the pond dry," said Tim Coon, so when they were fast asleep Mr. Fox slipped down to the water and plunged.

He was on the bank on the other side in a few minutes, and off to a farm not far away, for Mr. Fox was sure he felt his backbone every time he rubbed his stomach, he was so hungry.

When he had eaten all he wanted, off home he ran, without a thought or poor Tim Coon or Billy Possum could wish for any fond of swimming.

He was on the bank on the other side in a few minutes, and off to a farm not far away, for Mr. Fox was sure he felt his backbone every time he rubbed his stomach, he was so hungry.

The pond was some distance from where Mr. Fox's home was, and so he had no way of knowing what happened to Tim and Billy, and, in truth, Mr. Fix did not care.

Tomorrow all will tell what happened to the two friends he had treated so shabbily.

DOWN HAPPY VALLEY

—By—

MARY ROBERTS RINEHART

"Yes," said the doctor reflectively. "It's," said the doctor reflectively. "If you put the cemetery at the top of the hill, you'll need it. Who over it?"

"You remember the Wilson boy, Harry and Chuck? Well, Chuck has the place now. He'd jump at $300 an acre. He has a big family. I conducted some litigation for him a few years ago, and he was pretty hard up then. I have a second mortgage on a bit of the place now. If you want to get in on this, we'll buy the whole place if necessary. Tarrytown has to grow, and its best way is up the valley."

"How many acres?" The doctor was making a mental calculation.

"About 40. We can get an option on the place, today, perhaps, and rush the matter through. It will be only a day or so until the new route is published, and after that the land will double at a jump, if indeed it sells at all."

The doctor assented with a nod.

"There's a flicker," he said suddenly, stopping short and catching the doctor's arm. "There's a flicker."

But at the first throaty pull the tall brown and white bird gave his tail a contemptuous flit and darted away.

"It's much warmer than it was," said the Judge, taking off his light overcoat and throwing it over his arm.

"Warm nothing," said the doctor, doing the same. "We're getting up a little circulation, that's all. But it's a good way to catch cold, becoming overheated, and then cooling rapidly."

"Stuff," said the Judge. Something in the air, the exhilaration of lungs, with oxygen, after long abstinence, was bringing back a ghost of boyish buoyancy. "Stuff," he repeated scornfully. "This kind of weather makes the sap run, that's all. Don't you know the first of May is the time to shed shoes and stockings? I'm only 13 today, and months younger."

"My father started the Euclid Avenue Theater in Cleveland, which is still running. My mother also was Effie Ellsler, which may account for some of the antiquity associated with the name. I grew up in the theatrical atmosphere and environment, as educated as a child in all the refinements of the art, dancing, fencing, singing, and so was ready to appear at an early age. This solid training accounts for the versatility but he resolutely emptied a pocket and held out his hand.

"It must be the surroundings," he said. "Nothing would have made me touch the creature this morning. But look here, Cal, I don't seem to put my maturity altogether behind me; do you think this is quite fair to the toad?"

"It doesn't seem to be a square deal," said the doctor, thoughtfully. "You'd better let it go. Isn't this the path over it?"

They left the road, and followed a faint trail which wound through a tangle of blossoming bushes to the brow of a hill. The doctor tore a three-cornered hole in the knee of his trousers, but bore it philosophically.

"Thirteen wouldn't feel natural without a three-cornered snag somewhere," he said, disentangling the briar. "Have you got a pin?"

The Judge chuckled, and the next instant scratched his hand on the thorn of a berry bush. He stopped and waited for the doctor, holding out the injured member gingerly.

"It hurts like the mischief," he said. "Haven't got your pocket emergency case with you, I suppose?"

"What will I do with it?"

"Spirit on it and tie it up with your handkerchief," was the unsympathetic answer.

For just a second the Judge was making a mental calculation.

"About 40. We can get an option on the place, today, perhaps, and rush the matter through. It will be only a day or so until the new route is published, and after that the land will double at a jump, if indeed it sells at all."

The Sandman Story for Tonight

By Mrs. F. A. Walker.

Mr. Fox's Pond—Part I.

MRS. FOX met Billy Possum one night and told him of a very good scheme he had thought of for getting all the ducks they wanted that summer.

GOODWIN FAR ADVANCED

Reinhart, May and Tuero Look Good, Considering Earliness of Season.

When Jack Hendricks remarked several days ago that the problem of the Cardinals is pitching, he scored a bull's-eye. But it was no news to Manager Rickey. Rickey has known for several weeks that the destiny of his ball club rested with his hurling staff, and it is just for that reason that his interest has centered, during the two weeks of training, on his nine moundsmen.

Judgment as to pitchers, at this date, is just as sound as the life insurance business in Russia. Yet after watching his younger twirlers in their training efforts, the Chief Knotshole is willing to take a chance and admit that "he isn't disappointed."

One will just have to assume that Doak and Ames are going to give as valuable service as they did last year; because it is impossible to give a line on their present form, aside from announcing that their physical condition is "right." Ames always works slowly and figures to be in shape by the start of the regular season. Doak took his first workout on the hill yesterday, despite an injured elbow, and fared well. Meadows is another pitcher who is tried and known to be capable. He has worked in several practice sessions, "but not very gingerly, as is the wont of veteran boxmen."

Youngsters Now Improving.

Wade May has mastered several defects in his technique, which kept from him the success which one of his inherent abilities might be expected to have. He is in a good position and the other general requisites of a pitcher. With the correction of these aforementioned faults, he has acquired an added confidence which should aid him materially.

Sammy Chappell Barnes answers for the Cuban. Tuero Whatever visitor appears at Francis Field, he is immediately met by Barrett, who takes him to watch Tuero's work. Tuero appears to be on the way to watch for "good" and unhappy unless winning. He has worked in every practice game at home and when not actually pitching is lobbing the ball over. He is said to be the best fielding pitcher on the club and is unusually fast.

Goodwin in Great Form.

James Marvin Goodwin came to camp with some training and farther advanced than the bright moundsmen, his work must be considered in the actual rather than in the relative sense. He held the Kansas City Blues to six hits last Sunday, and on the following day was on the field to win the ball off if he had not pitched in a week. Goodwin seems to have plenty of "stuff."

The work of Reinhart has probably been exploited more than that of any other pitcher on the team. The youth is now starting out well and received a temporary setback when suspended by the Blues Saturday.

This was due, however, simply to a blow to his executives which since then has been healed.

Reinhart and Knechtel have held the Cardinal hitters well in hand during the past week, which augurs well—that is to be expected of them.

Team Departs Tonight.

The squads which play in Indianapolis and Evansville Saturday and Sunday will depart tonight after a brief session at Francis Field this afternoon. This will probably be the last workout on the Pikeway campus, as the team headquarters will be moved to Robison Field next week.

KAIER DEFEATS KRAMER.

"Pee-wee" Kaiser, the last Broadaway A. C. amateur, last night gained an easy victory over Mike Kramer of the Southern A. C. in the feature three-round bout of the meet. The amateur at the Stag A. C. Kaiser boxed in better form last night than he has for some time and had no difficulty in gaining the third decision over the Southern A. C. representative.

The Results:

Harry Ricks (S. B. A. C.) defeated Herman Berlin (Stag A. C.), 110 pounds.

Johnny Thompson (Stag A. C.) defeated George Bauer (A. C.), 120 pounds.

Dennis Sparks (C. A. C.) defeated Johnny Farrell (Stag A. C.), 125 pounds.

Frank Voss (S. A. C.) defeated William Gockenbach (S. B. A. C.), 145 pounds.

"Pee-wee" Kaiser (S. B. A. C.) defeated Mike Kramer (S. A. C.), 110 pounds. Officials—Eddie Ratner referee; Eddie Beck and Jimmie Solar judges; Eddie Beck, timekeeper.

Miss Wright Sets Mark.

PHILADELPHIA, April 4.—Anna Wright of the Philadelphia Turners made the fastest time ever recorded in this country in a 100-yard back-stroke swimming race for women here last night, but the time, 1m. 28.2 sec., was not set as a new American record, because she made it in an exhibition match.

Schoolboy Beats Silden in Final for Tennis Title

Teen-Year-Old Youth Conquerors Veteran in National Indoor Finals.

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

BERLIN, Wednesday, April 2.—An artist's brigade, numbering 1900 cubist, futurist and expressionists, workers in paint and poetry, is arming itself to join the Spartacists in the next attempt to overthrow the Government.

Artists bearing news and strange war cries have burst upon the nerves and streets of Berlin and Munich these placards announce the impending doom of the "plutocratic bankers of art" and promise to glad the spirit of mankind and accelerate the progress of beauty by making a large bonfire of all the bad paintings and insipid books which now fill the galleries and libraries of the nation.

The revolutionary art council, under the leadership of J. H. Neuman and Herwarth Walden, has been formed, and this council is now officially allied with the Soldiers' and Workmen's Councils in Berlin and Munich. The master brains of the association have been busy for two weeks compiling a ferocious blockade list, and the two paintings in the royal art gallery are on this list.

Three-quarters of the books for sale in the shop and on the news stands are likewise doomed.

"No Merit to Absurdities."

"As for the horrible absurdities shamelessly exposed in the boulevard art shop windows," said Herr Neuman, "no mercy will be shown them."

Artists who decided to form single section tournaments for juniors and seniors, open to members of association clubs only, are at the Kirkwood Country Club.

Any organization was voted right by which club with its facilities is eligible to members. Heretofore, two tennis courts were the only facilities.

Tennis activities were discontinued and tournament plans laid for tournaments to be held after the Dase Ober of the association announced the membership as follows: Arthur Haas, striker Wege, A. P. Lynn, Macdonald, A. G. Blakeslee, Wood.
